TREE TORN

To Splinters and Mrs. Gregory Narrowly Escapes Death.

The wife of Mr. Hiram C. Gregory, of Church-Hill, narrowly escaped instant death Tuesday afternoon. Just as the rain storm was coming up Mrs. Gregory went out into the yard to ring the dinner bell. She stopped a moment under a large locust tree and then walked away about fifteen or twenty yards, when the tree a very large one, three feet thick, was struck by lightning and torn to splinters. Mrs. Gregory was severely shocked but recovered after a few minutes. Some chickens which had taken shelter under the tree were also stunned by the current and a fine rooster was instantly killed.

WORK OF HIGHWAYMEN.

Hold Up Farmer and Secure All His Cash.

Mr. Lafayette Hight, a well known citizen of Northern Christian, was held up and robbed of about $65 in cash Monday afternoon. Mr. Hight had sold some hogs at White Plains Monday and left that place for his home late in the afternoon. When about a mile from the station he was held up by two men—a white man and a negro—and ordered to disgorge. After securing all his money he was permitted to go. He at once reported the matter to the Hopkins county authorities and on Tuesday a negro man was arrested on suspicion.

HARVEST TRAGEDY.

Bloodshed in Wheat Field Near The Square.

Colored Farm Hands Engage in Difficulty And One Of Them Killed.

A tragedy occurred in Mr. Jas. A. Radford's wheat field, near The Square, Wednesday afternoon about two o'clock. The facts as gathered are about as follows: Several colored hands were at work shocking wheat, among them, Stephen Stewart, a brother of Mr. Radford's foreman, and Grant Pettus. Pettus it seems, had been very careless in keeping up with his part of the work, and had been reproved by Stewart, who, in the absence of his brother, was looking after the work.

This angered Pettus and he threatened to kill Stewart, it is claimed. This trouble took place in the forenoon.

When the hands had gone back to work after dinner Stewart remarked to one of them that Pettus had a pistol. About this time Pettus drew his revolver and fired. Stewart was shot in the stomach. He fell and soon became unconscious, dying in about three hours.

Pettus immediately fled and going into the neighborhood of Bell, his old home, informed some of his friends that he had wounded a man and asked for protection. When an investigation revealed the fact that Stewart was dead Pettus was placed under surveillance and the authorities there notified of his whereabouts. Deputy Sheriff Charles Barnes went down to Bell yesterday afternoon for the purpose of bringing him here, where his examining trial will be held.

FAMILY REUNION.

Blakeley Brothers And Families Met Near Gracely.

The Blakeley family held their annual reunion at the residence of Dr. J. J. Blakeley, near Gracely, last Sunday. There are six Blakeley brothers—Dr. J. J. Blakeley, of Gracely, Dr. W. H. Blakeley, of Bowling Green, Charles Blakeley, of Morton's Gap, E. F. Blakeley, of Madisonville, Lee Blakeley, of Henderson, and J. D. Blakeley, of Gracely.

The youngest of the brothers is well up in middle life and nearly all of them have children and some of them grandchildren. All of the brothers are prominent in their respective communities and enjoy a wide popularity. The six brothers represent the entire family, except one sister, who has been dead for a number of years.

The reunion this year, like all former meetings, was thoroughly enjoyed by all and the KENTUCKIAN hopes that they may live to participate in many more such happy occasions.

"CONFEDERATE VETERAN."

Low Club Rate Given With The Kentuckian.

The growth of the Confederate Veterans association has been rapid. It now has over 100,000 members in all parts of the United States.
The association was organized in 1864, and since that time it has grown steadily. It has a large membership in the South, but it is also well represented in the North and West. The association is a non-partisan organization, and its object is to promote the welfare of the Confederate veterans and their families. It does this by providing them with money, land, and other necessities.
The association is also a powerful factor in the education of the young people of the South. It teaches them the history of the war, and the value of the Confederate cause. It also teaches them the importance of the Confederate flag, and the importance of the Confederate veterans.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly En quirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1790.
Since then every succeeding ten years the result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1790.....	3,929,881	1880.....	31,443,321

1830.....	12,866,920
1840.....	17,069,925
1850.....	23,174,821

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year.
The WEEKLY ENQUIRER is anxious to engage all in a study of their coun try. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solu

United States Census, as follows:

To the nearest correct guess received.....	$3,000.00

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BUILDING, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.

No vast is the number of valuable and interesting objects for exhibition in the possession of the government that none but a building of great proportions could possibly contain them. Instead of one building, however, at the Pan-American Exposition, which is to be held in Buffalo from May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, the Federal government will consist of three massive structures connected by colonnades. The main building will be 100 feet wide and 440 feet long. The others will each be 160 feet square. The government work is under the direction of James Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the treasury department. The group will be treated architecturally in a modified Spanish renaissance, and the color scheme, in marked contrast to that used at Chicago, will be rich and brilliant.

TWINS CUT APART.

Remarkable Operations Performed
On Two Sisters.

Remarkable operations have been performed on Rosalie and Maria, two sisters, who were born joined together. The sisters are doing well. Their case reminds one of that of the famous Siamese twins, but modern surgery will give them separate life.

Rosalie and Maria, the two little Brazilian children, who but for the interposition of modern science would have had to live joined to each other as they were,
are about ten years old.
Their parents, concerned as to their future, last winter determined to seek the aid of surgeons, and at that end took the twins to the hospi tal Mirococardia, in Rio Parana, where they were put in the care of Dr. Alvares Romos.

The two were joined in a manner similar to the Siamese twins, only still more closely. Use of the X-ray developed the fact that the seventh rib was united by a solid osseous formation, and that there was but one liver for the two. It was not difficult to sever the flesh and bone, but when it came to dividing the liver, Dr. Romos hesitated. Never theless, there have been cases where part of a diseased liver has been removed, so the physician was encouraged to make the attempt.

The first part of the operation was completed early in the winter, when the ribs were cut apart. The shock was great to the patients, but it was deemed necessary to wait for a time before completing the separation.

Cases like this are rare. The most famous is that of the Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, born in Siam in 1811, who were united at the anterior part of the chest by a fleshy ligament. All attempts to separate them without endangering their lives proved futile.

After a dozen seasons as museum freaks they married two sisters and settled down on a plantation near Salisbury, N. C. They died on January 20, 1874. Paralysis was the cause of Chang's death, and the other, falling into a stupor immedi ately, died within two hours.

Millie and Christine, known as the "double-headed nightingale," were another example. Born in Columbia, S. C., in 1851, they were exhibited for several years in this country and in Europe.

The Toni twins, of Italian birth, who were exhibited here, had only two legs.

There was a sensation in New York medical circles in the spring of 1895, when Mrs. J. Koehler, of 342 East Forty-second street, gave birth to girl twins, who were joined diagonally from the lower part of the spinal column to the upper part of the pelvis. A peculiar fea ture of this case was that though joined at the back, the ligaments were so elastic as to allow the twins to face each other.

Mrs. Henry Jones, of near Kaka mo, Ind., gave birth to twins con nected at the hips and lower abdo men, in June, 1887. No vital parts were connected except the spinal column, which was continuous from one end to the other.

Radiae and Daddica, natives of Orissa, India, who were exhibited several years ago, are two little girls who are attached from breast to breast by a flexible, bony con nection, below which there is a vital attachment. Food and medicine given to one affects both.—Rio Janeiro Cable to the New York Herald.

POLITICS NOTED

By These Census Enumerators—

Taking a Poll on Orders From Republican.

Omaha, Neb., June 10.—Demo crats of the First Congressional District of Nebraska are worked up over the discovery that the Census Enumerators are being used by the Republicans for taking a poll of the district. The expose was made by the discharge of Isaac H. Yeakle, of Eden, Neb., a Democrat, who stood highest in the list of applicants on his dismissal is that he cannot speak German.

The discharge was handed to Yeakle May 31, the day before the work of enumeration began, by the District Supervisor, Fred W.
Miller, of Falls City. Prior to re ceiving his discharge Yeakle re ceived a letter from Republican Congressman Burkett, in which Burkett instructed Yeakle to call B. Frank Neal, of Auburn, before beginning his work. Mr. Neal is a member of the Republican Con gressional Committee. When Yeakle called on him Neal gave him a regulation poll book and in structed him to make report of the politics of every man in his district, whether certain or doubtful, and also to indicate in the book the na tionality, religion and vocation of each voter, and whether married or single.

Republicans at Eden and Au burn protested against Yeakle's appointment, with the result that Francis F. Malone, a Republican was appointed to succeed him, and Yeakle received instructions from the District Supervisor to turn over all books to Malone. Not having complied immediately, he received a second and more peremptory no tice, and turned over all except the poll books, which, with Burk ett's letter, he still keeps.

ANOTHER CONSIGNMENT

Of Military Paraphernalia Re ceived From The Mountains.

Frankfort, Ky., June 12.—The State Armorer this morning re ceived another consignment of guns and ammunition from Barboursville, whence they had been carried by the Taylor administration at the time the plan to fortify the mount ain towns and established the State government there was contemplated.

This is supposed to be all of the military paraphernalia taken out of the arsenal, but there is no exact data as to what was removed, and it is entirely probable that part of the military property of the State which has not been accounted for is lost for good and all.

"Hunger Is The Beggar."

Yet some people are never hungry.
Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, some thing wrong with those people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite and they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your ap petite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It is a true stomach tonic and every dose does good.

"Mother's Love Is Different."

A young married woman said to her mother-in-law: "Mother, I won der if you love your son George as well as I love him as a husband?" It seems to me impossible." The woman replied: "Well, Alice, let me show you the difference in our affection for George. You love him because he is really lovable and loves you, and is kind and affec tionate, and his thoughtful atten tions anticipate all your wants.
But let him cease to be loving and affectionate, and become cold and indifferent, neglecting you and be coming even abusive and violent, and let him throw away his man hood and go into the mire of im morality and drunkenness. Then I should not be surprised to see you cease loving George and see you sue for a divorce. But George might neglect you and treat me unkindly, and assault me with vi olence and stagger into the gutter.
Nevertheless, before binding up my wounds, I would go to George and help him up and wipe the slime from his cheek and kiss him, and put my arms around him and what ever others might say or think of him, I would still love and care for him as my own darling son. That Alice, is perhaps the difference be tween your love and mine for George."—Ex.

There is more Camarr in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Camarr to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Delivered is the President's choice, the principal object being that he and Speaker Henderson are from the same State. This objection is not a serious one, for after the present Congress expires there will be no Speaker Henderson.

Fined for Selling Alum Baking Powder.

Reports in the English papers show how very exacting the courts of that country are relative to the sale of baking powders containing alum. All parties found selling such powders are summoned into court, and as the health officers and physicians agree that alum powders are poisonous when used in food, convictions and fines invariably follow. The following is from the London Grocer of May 5:

"At Bradford-on-Avon Police Court, William Orchard, grocer, Newton, Bradford; Annie Jones, grocer, Silver street, Bradford; Edward Mock, grocer, St. Margaret street, Bradford; and Ernest Slade, grocer, Bradford, were all summoned for selling baking powder adulterated with alum. The powder contained alum ranging from 20 to 37 per cent, and Dr. Thomas, county medical officer, stated that alum in baking powder was injurious to health. It was used solely to increase the profits of the manufacturers, and to enable them to put large packets for the money on the market. It was especially injurious to the bones of young children, and caused their teeth to become brittle. In each case it was urged that the powder was sold exactly as bought from the makers; but for the prosecution it was contended that that was neither a legal nor moral excuse, as it was a tradesman's duty to ascertain whether an article was genuine. Mr. Slade, whose sample contained 37 per cent of alum, was fined £2, and costs; the other defendants were each fined 10s., including costs.

The navy is to build warships aggregating over 1,000,000,000 in cost as soon as builders are prepared to undertake this great programme, which calls for eleven armed ships, practically doubling the present American sea power in this class, and for three highly improved Olympia type of cruisers.

SUSPENDED BUCKLE

Saved Frankfort Night Watchman From Assassin's Bullet.

Frankfort, Ky., June 12.—William Smoot, watchman at the State Executive Mansion, narrowly escaped death to-night at the hands of an assassin, his life being saved by a suspender buckle. The shot was fired about 10:30 o'clock by an unknown man, who had hid himself in a gateway on the northern side of the building. The bullet, which was of 38-caliber, struck Smoot in the left side just below the heart, flattening against the suspender buckle. The assassin was very close to Smoot, but the shock he received prevented him from recognizing him, and when he recovered he had fled.

Smoot, who is from Owen county, has been watchman at the mansion since the evacuation of W. S. Taylor and his guards. Gov. Beckham has not yet moved into the building.

Gov. Mount has refused to honor Gov. Beckham's requisition for the extradition of W. S. Taylor, and has given out a lengthy statement attempting to defend his course. The requisition was presented Wednesday at Indianapolis by Sheriff Suter. Col. Campbell made a strong argument before Gov. Mount, and to correct Gov. Mount's impression that the testimony against Taylor had been unduly secured, he showed that all the evidence against Taylor had come from his own official family. Justice Groebel also made a statement to show that a fair trial and safety of life could be guaranteed. Gov. Mount, in his statement, went purely on a partisan basis, contending that the indictment was only further persecution and that a fair trial was impossible. His statement, which is addressed to Gov. Beckham, calls the request for the honoring of the requisition a "monstrous" demand.

"New Brooms Sweep Clean."

The human body has been compared to a temple and the poet urges us to keep it entire and clean. To accomplish this end, every nook and cranny must be swept and garnished. The agent of the body that goes everywhere is the blood. If it is not strong, pure and life-giving, it is like a worn-out broom. It fails to do the work. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes a new broom of your blood.

Skin Disease—"I have been troubled with a skin disease. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised I decided to try it, and after taking it a short time the disease disappeared." Miss Mary Jagen, 4059 Cambridge St., Philadelphia, Pa.

People who expected to witness the eclipse of the moon Tuesday night were disappointed. The supposition is that it took place according to schedule, however, but the heavy clouds prevented a view. There seems to have been some uncertainty about the date of this eclipse. The date laid down in the almanacs was June 13, which was Wednesday night.

Gray Streaks

Why let all your neighbors and friends think you must be twenty years older than you are? Yet it's the color of seventy years in the hair. It's sad to see young people look prematurely old in this way. Sad because it's all unnecessary, for gray hair may always be restored to its natural color by using—

AYER'S Hair Vigor

For over half a century this has been the standard hair preparation. It is an elegant dressing: stops falling of the hair; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff. When you feed your hair well it will grow well. It keeps soft and never splits at the ends.

It is a little. All suggest.
"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for over twenty years and can heartily recommend it to the public as the best hair restorer in existence."

NATURAL BRIDGE

Of Virginia For Sale—Late Line Heirs Extinct.

The famous Natural Bridge of Virginia is for sale.

This bridge has, since the days of George III., been classed as one of the wonders of the New World, second in importance only to the Falls of Niagara. It consists of a single block of limestone 215 feet high, with a width of 100 feet, forming a natural span over a gloomy chasm into which sunlight has never entered on the western slope of Blue Ridge Mountains in the heart of beautiful Virginia. This wonder once belonged to the English sovereign, who gave it, with 2,000 acres of land surrounding it, to Thomas Jefferson, afterward President of the United States, and long after his death the property remained in the keeping of his heirs. Tens of thousands had visited the wonder during and a few years after Jefferson's death, freely and without price. During the Civil War, Colonel Parsons of Northern man, visited the bridge, and was so impressed with its grandeur that he determined to possess it. Having campaigned in Virginia and being impressed with its climate, he concluded to make that neighborhood his future home. This he did after the war ended in 1865.

Parsons was killed about two years ago by a railroad conductor and the male line of the Parsons now being extinct the women folks, not caring to be troubled with the management of the business, have concluded to place the land on the market.

COURT OF APPEALS

Sustained Motion to Discharge Supersedeas Bond.

Gives Democrats Possession of Executive Buildings and Puts them in Charge in Various Departments.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13.—The Court of Appeals this morning, through Chief Justice Hazelrigg, sustained the motion of Attorney General Breckinridge, made yesterday, to discharge the supersedeas bond as to the officers and records in the cases of the minor State officers, and overruled the motion as to the salaries.

The action of the court gives the Democratic State officials immediate possession of the offices in the public buildings, ousting the few Republican minor clerks who have been holding on since the removal of the Taylor guards.

Judge Burnam dissented from the court's ruling and delivered a written opinion. Though the action of the Court of Appeals this morning in sustaining the motion of Attorney General Breckinridge, gives the regular State officials immediate possession of the offices and records, they will not move in until after the convention at Louisville, where most of them have already gone.

FELL THIRTY FEET.

Campbell Graves Sustains Bad Fractures Of Both Arms.

Campbell, the 10-year-old son of Mr. Palmer Graves, fell from a maple tree in Mr. Thos. Bryan's yard Wednesday afternoon, sustaining a bad fracture of both arms, and other injuries. The little fellow fell a distance of thirty feet and landed on his arms. The fractures extended into the wrists, and his gums were torn away from the teeth and the flesh from the jaw-bone. It was at first thought that he had been fatally hurt, but upon examination it was found that he had sustained no internal injuries. Drs. Southall and Jackson were called and reduced the fractures and the child is now getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

TWO YEARS

For John Robertson Who Killed His Brother.

Court Engaged in Civil Matters—Commonwealth Cases to Come up.

On Tuesday morning the jury in the case of the Commonwealth against John Robertson, charged with the murder of his brother, Prof. George Robertson, a colored school teacher of Crofton, returned a verdict of manslaughter and fixed the punishment of defendant at two years confinement in the penitentiary.

There was considerable surprise expressed at the light sentence, as it was generally believed that he would get a life term.

The case occupied several days of court. The balance of this week will be consumed in the disposition of common law matters, some of which are of very great importance to the general public.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday to reconvene to-morrow.

The Commonwealth docket will again be taken up next week.

Because of Leslie Oldham, charged with murder, and Dno. Duncan, charged with rape, were set for the seventeenth day of the term.

RESCUED A BOY.

Jim Pool, The Ninth Street Barber, In The Role of a Hero.

Ben Decker, a nine-year old son of Henry Decker, col. janitor at the post-office, had a very narrow escape from drowning Tuesday about noon, when a heavy rain that filled all of the gutters of the city. The boy, with several other boys, was wading in the gutter above the deep sewer at the corner of Fourth and Liberty streets. Suddenly Decker lost his footing and was carried by the swift current into deeper water near the culvert into which the water was pouring with terrific force. A negro man standing by was paralyzed with horror and had only presence of mind enough to exclaim "that boy is drowning." James Pool, the barber, was about twenty-feet away and acting with coolness and promptness, with a few strokes of his arm, he pulled the boy out of the water and brought him to the shore. As soon as he struck the earth in a panic of fear he took to his heels in the direction of his home. It was a close call but the boy was none the worse off from his experience.

A SOLDIER'S ROMANCE.

The Reason That Gen. Gatacre Went to South Africa.

According to members of English-born families in Los Angeles, Santa Monica and elsewhere in southern California, when Gen. Gatacre, one of the British leaders in South Africa, was colonel of the Connaught Rangers, some years ago, he was stationed with his regiment in Dublin. His wife was a most brilliant and dashing woman. In the Dublin garrison at the time was a handsome captain named Murphy, with an Irish pedigree extending back several hundred years, and possessing a fortune, with other accomplishments, which made him a social lion. He and Mrs. Gatacre were much together, and people began to talk.

Finally Gatacre asked his wife for an explanation. She is said to have boldly declared her love for Murphy. The husband sent for the handsome captain, and told him that he must forthwith resign his army commission and leave the country, taking Mrs. Gatacre with him, or he would be killed. Gatacre added, in a sort of incidental fashion, that if he ever encountered Capt. Murphy any more in the British empire his life would not be worth a snuff of the candle.

Murphy accepted the conditions, and the couple came to southern California. Col. Gatacre, now general, because of pride, never sought a divorce, and the facts, as they are related, followed Capt. Murphy and the lady to Los Angeles. The couple lived at one of the hotels here for several months. Then Murphy purchased an orange orchard near Duarte. There the couple lived thoroughly happy until early last year, when Mrs. Gatacre died, and the body was sent to England, Murphy following a short time later. Word reached Los Angeles lately that Murphy had now married and settled down on his Irish estates. He still owns the Duarte orange orchard, purchased years ago.

Gen. Gatacre, as soon as his wife and her lover had left Ireland, exchanged into a regiment for colonial service, and was sent to India. He vowed when he left England that never again would he serve anywhere in his mother country.—N. Y. Journal.

OTIS ON FILIPINOS.

Natives Hungry For Books And Learn Quickly.

Interest Of Natives Of The Best Class Lie In American Sovereignty.

Washington, June 12. During Gen. Otis' afternoon at the War Department in conference with the heads of the various departments in regard to the condition and needs of their departments in the Philippines he had many questions to answer in his intercourse with his friends respecting present and future conditions in the Philippines, and of these he talked quite freely. He made no statement in particular, which came as a distinct surprise, in view of the fact that he has spent a year and a half in fighting the Filipinos, for he declared that these very Filipinos were without question the very best of all the Asiatic races living on the Pacific coast and islands. He paid high tribute to their acquisitive sense, saying that young and old were alike anxious to learn from the Americans and quick to do so if given an opportunity. The demand for schools on the American plan was insatiable. It had not been possible to secure a sufficient supply of Spanish-American text books, the market having been denuded of such.

When the book-hungry Filipinos were told this they begged for American school books, and declared that the children could learn from them, even without the Spanish text and translations. Gen. Otis found, to his astonishment, that such was the case, and says that in the course of a very few months the Filipino children pick up a fair knowledge of English.

Gen. Otis was positively of the opinion that the American forces in the Philippines at present were sufficient for all needs. Of course, he said, Gen. MacArthur's present army could not furnish a guard to protect every Filipino household from the Ladrones; to do that would require a force of no less than 200,000 troops, and even the task would occupy many years. As a matter of fact, he said, Spain had spent several centuries in the effort to stamp out the Ladrones in the Philippine group, and there was reason to believe that those brigands are scarcely more numerous now than they were during the Spanish occupation, when the ladrones were nominally at peace with Spain.

Gen. Otis was confident, however, that conditions would steadily improve and that little by little these robber bands would be driven away. Meanwhile he admitted that it was often dangerous for Filipinos of the better class, whose interests naturally lie in American sovereignty, to admit their preferences, for they were subject in that case to assassination, to the loss of property and to persecution, instigated by various elements in the population to whom American occupation was obnoxious.

A Specialist.

A few days ago a well known Washington lady, being unexpectedly bereft of her kitchen assistance, advertised for a colored woman capable of performing general housework.

The first caller in response to the advertisement was a mulatto damsel, bedecked with ribbon and livery, from her airs and graces she might have been a graduate of a seminary. She announced that she had noticed the advertisement and was desirous of securing employment. "Are you a good cook?" inquired the lady of the house.

"No, indeed, I don't cook," was the reply.

"Are you a good washer and ironer?" was the next query.

"I wouldn't do washing and ironing, it's too hard on the hands," declared the caller.

"Can you sweep?" the housewife then wanted to know.

"No," was the answer, and it was a positive one. "I'm not strong enough for that."

"Well, in the name of goodness, what can you do?" said the lady of the house, exasperated. The placid reply was:

"I dance."—Washington Star.

How To Cure a Sprain.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be all right, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 10 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARCKOE, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by R. C. Hardwick.
